Yes, it is used many times in many situations, but do you remember the story about the king's new clothes? How everyone in the country admired the king's new clothes, even though he wasn't wearing any? Remember how they all pretended to accept the idea that the king had new clothes, because they feared his wrath, but they knew he was nude? Remember, too, how it took one small boy to break the silence and tell the truth? Well, think of sane people as that one small boy. Think of most others as belonging to the duped and pretending lot. Okay...

Those who prefer sexual perversion want everyone to believe homosexuality is normal and right. But, to enable them to do this, they need to bring in oppression and law to silence any opposition or argument. Before they do that, they make sure everyone is generally sexualised by ads, TV, films, other media, etc.. And idiots in government and organisations pretend to go along with it, as if it were normal. No, I do not hold back calling these people 'idiots'... it is what they are. They are stupid – look up the meaning of 'fool' in the Hebrew of the Old Testament.

"But...", say those who like homosexuality, "...we do not care about the Bible, or about morality. We are doing our own thing and it is good." Hm.

Okay, just for a moment let's forget the Bible arguments...

So, homosexualists say there is no morality. Well, why are they using law to silence people? Law is a form of morality! Homosexualists (being atheists) also say there are no absolutes. But, by saying that, they are using the terms of absolutism! You see, homosexualists act as if they are brain-dead. They cannot string together the most basic of concepts and intellectual effort without tripping over on their ridiculous claims. (I see this regularly when they send me whinging emails full of nonsense and intellectually stupid 'arguments').

No Such Thing as 'Homosexual'

There us no such thing as a distinct, innate 'homosexual' condition. There are only thoughts and acts that can be called 'homosexuality'.

Now, this might sound quite weird to people long accustomed to being brainwashed into thinking homosexuals were 'born that way'. But, it makes perfect sense.... once you agree with that small boy who did not see the king's new clothes.

'Homosexuals' are just heterosexuals gone wrong. There is ordinary, good, sane, moral sex and there is homosexual sex. The first is logical and true, but the latter is a sign of mental imbalance. How do I know?

Well, what sane person chooses to indulge in acts that lead to fatal illnesses? Or, picks on young children to be sex objects? Or, that pretends to be normal but does abnormal things? Men with men adopt children (usually boys!). They reject the normality of heterosexuality (which IS normal), but want children produced by normal male-female relations! Hm. Women with women want to have children, so go through hoops to produce them artificially... female eggs and a male sperm; that is, through normal, created relations. (Oops, did I say 'created'. Sorry, I meant by 'observably normal biological means').

Both groups, then, resort to what is normal to get their own way, whilst rejecting it in everyday activities. Tell me again that homosexuality is 'normal' when it uses normality to get what its wants. Normal? Yeah, right!

Now, take off those rose-tinted 3D glasses provided by homosexual propaganda. Blink a few times to adjust to reality and truth. Okay? Right, let us look at it again...

A pig is a pig is a pig. Yes? The bacon you ate this morning is pig. Yes? Even if you put brown sauce on it, it is still pig. Now, trace back to Mr Pig's parents. Lo and behold – they are pigs. But, for those who think their pig MUST have had some elephants in their genes, try tracing the grandparents of Mr Pig's parents on ancestry.com. I am willing to bet (though I shouldn't bet) that Mr Pig's parents had parents who were... pigs.

Go back further, maybe using parish records, to see about the great-grandparents. Hate to tell you this, but they were pigs, too. Not an elephant in sight! (By the way, so-called cross-gender folks have a similar delusion, thinking they must be the opposite sex. They convince themselves they are elephants and get all the elephant bits added falsely. And normal bits they were born with removed by surgery. There! They ARE natural elephants...aren't they?)

Ed. Or, to borrow a quote from [Barack Obama .] "You know, you can put lipstick on a pig, but it's still a pig"!

Humans – NOT Homosexual

An human being is an human being is an human being. Yes, that's right. Human. There are not many kinds of human, only one, called 'humanity'. That one single creation (sorry again – I meant, 'species') consists ONLY of man and woman. And the two are the ONLY coupling known to biology and common sense. Argue though you will, there is NO OTHER logical or created (sorry – I meant biological, anatomical and physiological) coupling in humankind.

What, then, is 'homosexuality'? Until activists got their claws into people's minds, everyone in the world knew that 'homosexual' acts were wrong. So did 'homosexuals'! They produce disease, violence, hatred and mental imbalance in those who practice it. These are products plain as day to anyone not duped by the king, or by the early 1990s 'gay agenda'!

Homosexuality is the 'wrong' end of normal sexuality. Heterosexuality is normal, but homosexuality is abnormal. It stretches way beyond what is genuine, safe and normal. It goes so far as to break through the taboo set by God (sorry again – I meant, by biology, logic, sense and intellectual honesty). And anything that breaks through a taboo enters dangerous territory. The proper side of the taboo is sanity and well-defined biological restrictions, set in greenery and lovely countryside. You don't need morality to tell you that!

On the other side of the barrier – put there for a very good reason – the person enters no-man's-land, a wilderness that is parched, without vegetation or nutrition, where death and weirdness is accepted to be 'normal'. In this territory, the person wanders aimlessly, doing whatever comes to mind – and as the mind is by then corrupt and perverted, he/she cannot discern what is good and right anymore, but continues to do increasingly bad things. Bad for him/herself and bad for society as a whole. If you think all this is 'good' and 'normal', then you have seriously crossed the taboo and have been infected by insanity!

Those lost in this wilderness lose all propriety and seek out ever-younger prey to satisfy their lusts. Yes, homosexual acts are based on lust not love, and on control not true relationships. That is why homosexualised couples are the most violent, according to police statistics. And it is why those pathetic 'civil partnerships' last, on average, about two years. Now – how can any sensible and thinking society accept all that as 'normal' and worthy of support, funds and law?

But, but, but... it is this kind of morality (wait a minute – I have avoided talk of morality thus far! I am just talking in terms of humanity and biology, etc), homosexuals bleat, that cause youngsters to commit suicide. No, the research does not say that. Only homosexualised researchers say that! Because it is in their own interest to make out that homosexuality is normal and sane.

It is in their own interest to make out that 'homosexual' is some kind of separate class (or, innate orientation). But, it is just ordinary sexuality gone down the repugnant end, through the taboo, and into uncharted, hostile territory.

The Young are Too Immature to Make a Proper Choice

Young people are not adults and are, by definition, not fully mature. So, when homosexuals groom them into their awful lifestyle, the youngsters are at the mercy of what they are told. There is no doubt whatever that youngsters today are duped into thinking homosexuality is 'cool', a new kind of fashion. Those who groom them, in schools and elsewhere, tell them they are doing what is natural and good. And so the number of AIDS cases in youth are rising! Hm.

But, they then come across their parents and 99% of the population. Though it is fair to say many in that 99% have also been duped (through ignorance) by homosexuals, most have not been misled. And when the majority of parents learn of their child's chosen sexual activity, they are horrified. They naturally want to tear them away from what is a death-cult. And so the first point of disharmony is very close to the youngster.

True to homosexualised form, they are taught to stand their imbalanced ground and demand that parents accept their lifestyle and 'friends' (who are not really 'friends', but just lust-objects). But, the parents KNOW the sexual choice is very, very bad, and cannot accept it. Some parents, afraid of losing their son or daughter, are forced to 'accept' everything superficially, causing them intense grief.

But, the son or daughter does not care about that – they just want illicit sex and will abuse and ignore their parents and all sanity to 'enjoy' their choice. But, homosexuality is akin to drug addiction, which can end in destruction. The deeper the son or daughter enters into its obscene lair, the greater the risks and the inability to turn back. What started as an enjoyable experience turns into something dark and nasty, hateful and deathly. It becomes a necessity without joy, truth or sanity. It is, then, a mental imbalance that ensures a sane son or daughter becomes almost psychotic, if not psychopathic. Activists are certainly psychopathic in their aims and characters, filled with lust and hate, but without natural love.

With this pressure piling onto the son or daughter at an impressionable age, before maturity, and with a rejection of normal, loving concern by parents and others, the young person experiences deep-seated anxiety. This is not the product of parental or other pressure, but of homosexual pressure put on them by the people they have chosen to be with. These older homosexualists do not care about that person; all they care about is that the youngster holds his or her ground, so that the homosexual cycle is not broken. It is THEY who put the pressure on youngsters who, because of their immaturity, and torn from their parents and friends who see their sexual choice as bad, soon start to contemplate suicide. Sadly, they are driven by guilt and peer pressure. That is why they commit suicide... blame homosexualist activists.

They feel guilt because it is a proper reaction to a bad choice. If they continue in their wilderness, they will convince themselves they are doing what is natural and good. They enter deeply into homosexual enclaves so that they do not meet with normal, sane individuals who know their choices are bad. Many thus die from AIDS and other exotic diseases. Or, they become depressives or psychotic. At any rate, all of them are mentally unbalanced because they cannot cope with their own bad decisions.

How can I say that? Because it is logical and true. Who, in their right mind, enters a lifestyle that almost guarantees death or serious illness, a deepening mental disturbance, depression, sterility and an avoidance of intellectual truth? To deliberately choose what harms is irrational – mentally unbalanced.

Those in the homosexualised wilderness MUST join as a group to maintain their false logic. But, they can only do so amongst themselves. Today, they want to influence many more in normal society. They do it by showing a 'nice face', which hides their seething resentment for anyone who opposes them. Because their logic is broken, they cannot influence anyone except by imposing laws. This proves just how untenable their arguments are. They manufacture the idea that they are victims of society, when, in reality, society is a victim of homosexuality. They pretend everyone attacks them, when such attacks are very rare [ed. and are often the result of homosexual advances]. They falsify research and statistics to give the illusion that they need 'protecting'. In reality it is they who attack society; they have always had their own way, even when homosexuality was illegal!

Summary

Homosexuals are just immoral people. Yes, there are certainly immoral heterosexuals, but at least they indulge in natural acts. If they indulge in unnatural acts, such as anal sex, then they act stupidly. But, the homosexualised few are unnatural in what they do. That is the difference. And once they have broken through the taboo barrier (which they do when they act out their fantasies, which take a long time to develop), literally 'anything goes' and they hate everyone who stands in their way. Just like drug addicts who will even kill to get a fix.

Do not be deluded – 'homosexuals' are just you or me, but 'gone bad'. Anyone can enter this kind of insanity if they allow their lusts to be untamed. They make an irrational choice. There is no such thing as an 'homosexual condition'

... there are only acts and thoughts that are homosexualised. The 'homosexual' is merely a human – behaving shamefully and unnaturally, immorally and hatefully. The only reason 'homosexuals' pretend they are different, is because otherwise they could not obtain laws and special status in their favour! It is all a deception enabling them to proceed without accusation or criticism.

Duped and Stupid

Those organisations that fund or support homosexuality either have homosexualised members, or are duped by propaganda. If they KNOW the truth, then they, too, are just as mentally unbalanced as those they support. If they do NOT know the truth and are guided by propaganda, then they are guilty of intellectual stupidity. In the case of shops, etc., why on earth do rational and sane managers want to antagonise a large majority of the population in favour of the 1% or less who indulge in unnatural acts?

1% or less? Yes, that's right! This figure only quotes the number who claim to be 'homosexual' at the time of an ONS (Office for National Statistics) survey. We must adjust that figure dramatically, because almost ALL who claim to be 'homosexual' eventually return to normality and decency. Thus, the actual figure at any one time who are 'homosexual' is very, very low, in the fractions! It is certainly true that many indulge in homosexuality because of the constant propaganda. But, it is a fact that if no-one had heard of homosexuality, almost no-one would try out homosexuality! That is a fact. So much for it being a 'natural' sexual choice. And choice it is.

Homosexuality is Pornographic

Homosexuality, then, is the result of pornographic thinking. It is a perversion of what is genuine and natural. And when we now bring in the Christian angle, it gets far worse! This is because God calls homosexuality sin. Not only that, but He says that homosexual acts and thinking are an abomination worthy of death (Leviticus 18:22) – those who do them are reprobates (Romans 1:28

). Furthermore, they are acts that, unrepented of, lead to hell, because what 'homosexuals' do is, in God's eyes, condemned outright and unworthy. Let so-called 'Christian homosexuals' understand that fact.

Note, then, that I kept the Christian argument until last. One small paragraph. This is because we can easily oppose homosexuality on the strength of its own claims alone! That is, if we keep our brains inside our cranial cavities and do not fall for the old trick of the king's new clothes! Start thinking for yourself! Examine the truth and do not be swayed by 'gay' propaganda.

We must get back to truth, and give this wicked lifestyle the stigma it has always had – for a very good reason. Do not accept its claims. Do not accept its pornographic methods and life, especially not in our streets, on TV and in films, etc. It is all a deception, designed to drag you into pornography. If people wish to homosexualize their miserable lives, then let them do so in private. (Yes, they really do lead miserable lives, but they pretend otherwise).

Even those who remain 'heterosexual' change for the worse when they indulge in pornography, as they become unable to maintain normal relationships, genuine love and respect, and probably lose their wives or husbands. They wander deeper into the filth and grime and eventually wish to indulge in worse pornographic acts and thoughts. That is what 'homosexuals' do as what was once an exciting thought becomes a repugnant norm for them. They seek out greater 'thrills' and quickly lose genuine relationships as their thoughts are further corrupted. Do not be forced to accept what they do.

And if you are a parent do not accept your son's or daughter's chosen sex life... they will do it anyway, with or without your consent and approval. Superficially 'accept' what they do and you will sink into the same immoral mess, becoming depressed as a bonus! Yes, they will threaten you with all kinds of awful reprisals, but you must resist. If they see no difference, they will not have cause to think again!

Official HIV Statistics Prove the Case

That homosexuality is a death cult is beyond question. The figures prove it just as they prove that homosexuality is ALONE responsible for the onset of AIDS in the West (and, probably, Africa, using regressive statistical analysis). Even today, nearly 40% of new HIV cases are amongst homosexual men, when they account for less than 1% of the population! Of the 42% of new cases that are heterosexual in nature:

"Most of the new diagnoses among heterosexuals are in people who probably acquired HIV in other countries, particularly Africa."

The USA statistics give us a better idea, since they largely remove this African anomaly. In America, the proportion of new HIV cases due to male homosexual 'sex' is far higher,

at a whopping 74%

, whereas heterosexual sex accounts for only 14%.

Well anyone thrown off their rose-tinted glasses yet? Anyone willing to once again think rationally and intellectually? This issue affects EVERYONE, not just Christians. And this is why I left the Christian argument until last. Homosexuals-so-called constantly twist truth and present false research to the public. Don't be fooled.
