

Palestinian Authorities invest in Jericho

Written by K B Napier

Tuesday, 02 November 2010 12:36

“The Palestinian Authority has decided to invest heavily in the redevelopment of Jericho as a tourism hub. Plans include new resorts, an airport and even a 1,000-acre palm tree forest. Much of the funding will come from private companies, like the Palestine Development and Investment Limited, which will reportedly put an estimated $500 million toward various projects.”
\(ANS, 26 October 2010\)

At last Palestinian authorities are doing something beneficial, without violence! This story is given for the interest factor. Note that it is bereft of genuine Biblical truth.

© 2 November 2010

---oOo---

{loadposition btm_address}