

The King James Version the Bible in English

Written by J. B. Waddell
Friday, 02 December 2011 15:01

At Bible Theology Ministries we have always advocated that Christians use the King James Version (Authorized Version) and reject all other modern versions. You can see some of the way the scriptures are substantially changed in the article by the Rev Dr Peter Mullen, Rector of St Michael, Cornhill, and St Sepulchre in the City of London, commenting on the Four Hundred Years Anniversary of the King James Version (KJV):

"How hypocritical and sordid of the church authorities relentlessly to suppress the KJV, only to take it out and gawp at it in an anniversary year, as if it were a museum piece and we were all blundering tourists. The proper place for the KJV is on the lectern in every parish church – to be read, marked, learnt and inwardly digested, week in, week out." (The Telegraph, 14 November 2011)

We thank God that to this day we have the Bible and the King James Version in English to enrich our lives and provide the principles for true, fair and just governance for all mankind and the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Secularist and other evil movements, trying to create a Godless society, don't seem to understand that if they were to actually achieve their aim the result would be total and complete anarchy and annihilation. Laws were created by God; starting with physical laws at the dawn of Creation and then behaviour laws with the creation of mankind.

Many choose to reject God's laws and judgments stated in the Bible. However, rejection does not annul the laws of God and the consequences of breaking them.

Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.
(Galatians 6:7)

© 2 December 2011

---oOo---

The King James Version the Bible in English

Written by J. B. Waddell

Friday, 02 December 2011 15:01

{loadposition btm_address}