Scotland will soon vote in a referendum (18 September 2014) to stay in or leave Britain .

Note that it is up to the Scots... but also note that this is exactly what the EU wants!

It has already divided up every part of Europe after its own fashion, for example, treating England and Northern France as one unit. So Scotland will help it not just marginalise, but omit, Britain as a sovereign power. And if Wales went the same way, the EU will count it to be a bonus!

The Scots need to wake up!! Who will Scotland be hooked up with on the new EU map of Europe?
