

Is the UK a Democracy or a Dictatorship?

Written by K B Napier
Monday, 04 July 2016 09:51

Every attempt is being made to return us to EU shackles!!

Now, those interested in 'negotiating' our exit from the EU are saying we will HAVE to accept free movement if we want European contracts.

THIS IS UNACCEPTABLE!

Just do trade outside the EU... and wait for wails of protests from EU companies who want our money!!! They will demand that free movement is set aside to obtain contracts.

Accepting EU residents (except Muslims) is okay if those residents have jobs to come to etc. But, not EU residents who want to come with a wish to be employed, living off benefits. Simple.

And, importantly, NO immigrant must be given UK citizenship until they can prove they want to integrate and have been trouble-free for at least five years.

KEEP AN EYE ON THOSE WHO WANT TO SHACKLE US AGAIN.

TO THE EU!! If we allow them to do that, the referendum would have been for nothing. THIS IS OUR ONLY OPPORTUNITY TO BE FREE.

Anything else shows the UK is no longer a democracy, but a dictatorship.